Western Board Exams To Be Held In Pass

Mrs. Mary Fenwick

The Western Board of Music University of Alberta practical exams will be held in Blairmore on June 14 and in Coleman on June 15, and examiner will be Mrs. Mary Fenwick.

Mrs. Fenwick studied for some years with Gladys McKelvie Egbert in Calgary, and has also studied with Arthur Benjamin, Rudolph Ganz and Max Pirani. She was awarded the Royal Schools Gold Medal for Canada and a scholarship to the Royal Academy which she could not accept because of the war.

She has given numerous recitals in the East and has toured the Western provinces in the Young Artists' series. She also appeared on a weekly radio program and was twice soloist with the London Symphony Orchestra.

She has been teaching in Calgary for some years, with recitals, some CBC appearances and accompanying as well as examining for the Western Board of Music.

Indian Dances Much Enjoyed

Indian drums and loud chantings once again rang in the Crows Nest Pass district as some 65 Indians of the Peigan and other nearby reserves gathered at Blairmore on Saturday afternoon, May 27, and put on an exhibition that attracted well over 500 persons.

The colorfully dressed Indians in full Indian dress and painted for the special occasion, gave exciting demonstrations of chicken dances, owl dances, ring dances and two new dances—the warrior dance and the buffalo dance.

For the occasion a ring was set up in the town park and in the centre of the ring a number of Indians were seated around drums and began each event with an Indian song and drumming.

Two full-size colorful teepees set up at the east end of the park, provided the subject for the many pictures taken during the day.

During the gala event which provided advance publicity for the Indian Days to be celebrated in August, Cpl. Fred Murray of the Blairmore detachment of RCMP, was called upon by Chief Joe Crowshoe of the Peigans, and after being introduced, Cpl. Murray was presented with a beautiful head-dress, having been accepted as an honorary Chief in the Red Coat Society of the Peigans last fall.

Cpl. Murray's Indian name is Ka-Yu-Po-Kar or Bearchild.

The affair opened after Don Thornton of Blairmore, representing the town council, Board of Trade and Lions Club, sponsors of the affair, introduced the guests at the affair, which included, R. Koentges, chairman of the affair; Inspector P. J. Vaucher, officer commanding the Lethbridge sub-division RCMP, and his wife; Staff Sgt. R. Welliver and his wife, of Lethbridge; CPR investigation Tom McKim and wife of Lethbridge; William Kovach, MLA, and wife, of Hillcrest; Mrs. W. G. Murray of Edmonton, Mrs. Fred Murray and two children, Robyn and Fred, of Blairmore; Chief of Police R. Dunlop of Blairmore, who is also an honorary Peigan Chief named Ne-Na-Sta-Koo (Chief Mountain), and Mrs. Dunlop; Chief Joe Crowshoe, Chief Yellowhorn, Chief Jack Crowshoe, Chief Charlie Croweagle and Widow Buffalo, who is a grand-daughter of the well-known Bearchild. The affair was one of the most colorful events yet held in the Pass towns.

C.N.P. Hospital Board Meet

The annual meeting of the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital Board was held in Frank last month when Hospital Administrator V. J. Horejsi presented a concise and interesting report of the activities at the hospital over the past year.

Mr. Horejsi reported that the non-professional employees of the hospital were now organized under the National Union of Public Employees of Canada, and an agreement has been reached with the Union retroactive to January 1, 1961. It is believed that the local hospital is so far the only rural hospital to have become unionized.

Mr. Horejsi also advised that although no repairs or maintenance of any great amount had been made to the hospital, some $5,000 in new equipment had been purchased by the hospital.

The administrator's report showed that the vacancy on the Board created when Harold Chamberlain left Blairmore, had been filled by former member John Ulrich, of Blairmore. He also added that Stu Murdoch of Coleman, had been appointed as board chairman.

Other board members are Arthur Amphlett, representing Hillcrest, and Ward Two; Joseph Christie, representing Bellevue and Ward One; Joseph Zemke, representing the village of Frank and Steve Mraz, representing East Coleman and Ward Three.

Mr. Horejsi then presented the hospital financial statement and also statistical comparative statement for the years 1959 and 1960.

Former Coleman Resident Passes

Word was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald of the death of Adam Patterson, age 83, in White Rock, B.C.

Mr. Patterson was a former old-timer of Coleman, having operated the old Grand Union Hotel along with Lloyd A. Manley. He left here in 1910 for Vancouver where he managed the Martintique hotel and later the Dufferen hotel and was President of the B.C. Hotel Association until his retirement due to ill health.

He is survived by his wife and two married daughters. Friends and old timers sympathize with them in their bereavement.

Hose Coupling Competition July 1

Fire Chief Henry Zak has announced this week that plans are now underway for the forthcoming annual Hose Coupling Competition to be held in Coleman on July 1.

Mr. Zak stated that the affair this year will again feature two events and that a Cub event will also be held.

Over 30 teams have been invited from Montana, Alberta and British Columbia, and it is assumed that this year's event will be bigger than ever before. Plans are also being made to hold an exhibition featuring the uses of the pumper unit.

A parade will begin the Firemen's Day events and the parade of competing teams will form at the fire hall and parade to the school grounds where the competitions are to be held. Refreshment booths will be set up on the grounds as well as a merry-go-round for the children. The fire brigade are now selling booster tags to raise funds to defray the expenses of the Hose Coupling Competitions.

Polio Clinic On June 8

The Coleman Lions Club are sponsoring a Polio Clinic in Coleman Council Chambers on the evening of June 8 from 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., and all adults, male and female, are urged to attend this Clinic and get their first or second shots.

Miss Joyce Matheson of the Chirack Health Unit, will be on hand to give the shots which are free of charge.

Willow Valley Shoot June 17

Plans have now been completed for the Annual Willow Valley Trophy Club Shoot to be held at the F. Lynch-Staunton ranch, 12 miles north of Lundbreck, Saturday, June 17.

The events will get underway at 10 p.m. and continue through the day until all events are completed. For the convenience of visitors the ladies of St. Martin's Church will serve a dinner at the noon hour and also a lunch in the evening.

The committee has asked that last year's trophy winners please turn in their trophies on or before the day of the shoot in order that presentation of these trophies be made to the new winners.

In the event the shoot has to be postponed, due to bad weather, the event will be held on the 24th.

In the small bore events there will be five events to comprise competition for the Pete Maloff trophy 22 rifle, iron sights only, and no slings. Three shots fired at a range of 20 yards. Contestants shoot in rounds of ten and the winner of each round advances to the finals. Entry fee is 25c.

In the Willow Valley trophy club event 22 rifle. Scope or any type of sight. One sling may be used. Five shots fired at a range of 50 yards. Winlaw five man team trophy. Each man on the team fires 12 shots, three from each of the positions, prone, standing, sitting and kneeling. Iron sights only and no slings allowed. Five bull targets will be used at a range of 20 yards.

In the Blackburn trophy event the individual who makes the highest score in the five man competition will receive this award. Entry fee in the five man competition is 75c per man.

In the Jack Reid trophy event, 22 rifles, junior, is open to any boy or girl whose 17th birthday is after June 30, 1961. Range will be 20 yards and eight shots are to be fired, two from each position—standing, kneeling, prone and sitting. Any type of sight may be used but slings are prohibited.

The committee have pointed out that Dominion Marksman targets (20 yard) are to be used in all 22 calibre rifle competitions.

Rifles used must not exceed 8 pounds weight. Contestants in these events must provide their own ammunition. The committee are arranging for Super Clean long rifle shells to be available on the grounds.

Meanwhile the Willow Valley ladies five-lady team, last year's champions, have issued a challenge to any ladies' team in order to make the day's events more interesting.

In the big game rifle events for the Willow Valley Trophy Club trophies the club will provide two trophies, one for iron sights and one for scope sight shooting.

Two shots will be fired at a six-inch bulls-eye at a range of 150 yards. One sling is allowed and each man may enter each competition twice. Fees are 25c per entry. Scopes used in this event must be six power or less.

In the Harvey Davies Trophy event tight group competition three shots will be fired at 150 yards with any type of centre fire rifle, with any type of sling or rest.

In the Timberline Saddle Horse Trophy event, two shots will be fired at 150 yards at a moving target and any type of sight may be used.

In the Hunters Match event, standing off hand shooting will be done at a distance of 150 yards and iron or scope sights may be used and three shots must be fired in a space of one minute total time. One sling may be used in this event.

The committee have indicated that in all of the above competitions except the tight group event, any rifle used must be .24 calibre or larger. Fee is 25c per entry.

In the trap shooting event for the Hutchinson Trophy, there will be ten birds per man and contestants must supply their own shells. Winner of each round receives one dollar and the highest score of the competition will receive the trophy. Entry fee has been set at 75c per man and shells for 12 and 16 gauge guns will be on sale on the grounds.

This year a new event has been added to the competitions and is to be known as the Grand Aggregate trophy event. Contestants will earn points for this competition in the five following events—five man team, hunters match, trap shoot, 22 calibre 50 yard event, iron sight or scope sight big game event.

Sportsmen wishing to enter this event may register and the scores will be posted as they complete their events. A fee of 25c has been set for this competition.

C.N.P. Registered Nurses Hold Meeting

The Crows Nest Pass Registered Nurses Association held their regular monthly meeting at the hospital on Thursday, June 1st. Twelve members were in attendance.

During the evening Mrs. M. Harry gave a very interesting report on the convention held at Banff. It was decided to call a recess of meetings until September.

After the meeting closed a lunch of Chinese Food was enjoyed by all.

Red Cross Society Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Coleman branch of the Red Cross Society was held last week when a very small attendance of persons were on hand at the affair.

Mrs. Sofie Lepacek, the Coleman delegate, who attended the Society convention in Calgary recently, gave an interesting report on the convention, after which Mrs. Mary McQuarrie, chairman of the work room committee, who also went to Calgary and attended the work-room there, reported on the affair.

In her report, Mrs. McQuarrie mentioned the goods that were sent by the Coleman work room group to Calgary headquarters, which included quilts, baby clothing and other items. Two burned-out Coleman families were also assisted.

John Owen of the canvass committee, reported that the annual drive for funds was not yet completed.

Former Coleman Priest Passes

Father Edmond F. Lehman, priest of St. Patrick's Church, at Midnapore, and chaplain of the Lacombe Home passed away quietly in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, on Thursday, May 25, after a lengthy illness, at the age of 68 years.

Father Lehman has served as parish priest in several Southern Alberta parishes since 1928. He is survived by four brothers.

Father Lehman began his parish work in Coleman in 1928. Since that time he has served as parish priest in Bow Island and Rockyford. In 1953 he became dean of the Drumheller area, he took charge of the Midnapore parish in 1960.

Pontifical High Mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Cathedral on Saturday, May 27th at 9:30 a.m. Friends and parishioners met in the Cathedral for prayers on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The remains were forwarded to Kenilworth, Ont., for further services and burial.

East Coleman Grocery Under New Management

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kropinak, well known Coleman residents have this week taken over the business of the East End Grocery store in East Coleman, formerly operated by William Holyk.

Mr. Holyk, his wife and four daughters will be leaving the Pass in the near future to reside in Los Angeles, California.

"Bill", as he is better known by his many friends, in Southern Alberta, has been operating the business for the past nine years, and during his business life took a very active part in community affairs, spearheading many drives undertaken by the Board of Trade and other organizations. The business was started and operated in Coleman many years ago by Martin Hazuka, now of Calgary.

The new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Kropinak, are well known to all in the Pass towns as Mrs. Kropinak, the former Helen Michalski, was born in Coleman, where she attended school, and Mr. Kropinak was born in Frank, and has lived all his life in the Pass.

Prior to his taking over the store Mr. Kropinak was employed as a faller for Blairmore Sawmills.

The couple have changed the name of the store to Kropinak's General Store, and they plan to return to the present staff.

Mr. Kropinak is working in the store's meat department, and Mrs. Kropinak plans to work in the grocery department for some time. The couple have one son and a daughter.

Temptation may be strong, but it seldom overtakes the man who runs from it.

Community Library Raise $125.00 At Bingo

The Coleman Elks Lodge held a regular bingo night Friday, May 26, with proceeds earmarked for the Coleman Community Library Fund. The $200 cash jackpot prize was won by Mrs. Nina Hurd of Coleman, and as a result net profit from the bingo showed only a $25 clearance.

In order to assist the Library, which is scheduled to open up in September, the Elks donated an additional $100 to the Library Fund, making the total donation $125.

Other prizes were donated by local merchants to aid the Library Fund, and were won by:

$15 donation by IGA and Zak's store, won by Mitzi Moore of Coleman.

$10, Mrs. J. Fantin, Bellevue.

Bread box by Modern Electric and cream and sugar set donated by the Blairmore and Coleman Pharmacy, won by Mrs. Joy Tarcon of Coleman.

$14, Evelyn Beigan of Coleman. Shirt, donated by Aboussafy's, shirt donated by Kwassies and a travel clock by Chalmers, was won by Pat Hampton of Coleman.

$12.50, Bertha Crippen, Coleman. $5, by Little Chief Service, ten gallons gas by the Kananaskis and ten gallons gas by Rudy's Texaco Service, was split by Violet Wavrean and Sheila Clarke.

$12.50 merchandise, by Coleman Hardware, $5, Vets' Insurance and $7.50 by the Elks Lodge, won by Geraldine Gettman of Coleman.

$3 grocery hamper by Toppiano, $2, Michalski's dry good, $5, Salus dry goods, step ladder from Cellis Builders Supplies and dinner for two from Pep's Coffee Shop, won by Ken Snowden of Coleman.

$5 grocery hampers from Salus, Holyk's and Coleman Shopping Centre were won by Alex Galbraith of Coleman.

Bicycle, Muriel Ingram, Coleman $12, Mrs. S. Mattson, Bellevue.

$12 wave set and shampoo for two from Louise's Beauty Salon, won by Mrs. R. Derbyshire, Coleman.

Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. J. Newton of Bellevue, and John Hardy of Coleman.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Fauville

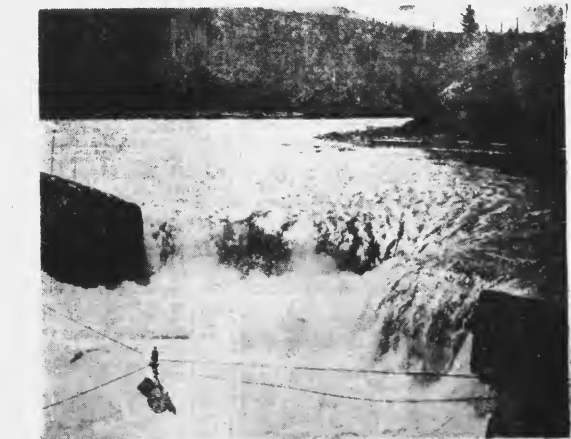

Funeral services were held for the late Mrs. Fauville (well known as Grandma Fauville by her many friends) from Hall's Funeral Chapel in Blairmore on May 27.

The Rev. H. G. deLeeuw officiated.

Mr. S. Murdoch presided at the organ. Hymns sung were "Unto The Hills" and "Abide With Me".

Pallbearers were Messrs. Joe Zur, Bob Phillips, John Poxton, Fred Fauville, Emil Fauville and August Fauville.

Interment was in the Coleman Union cemetery with Halls Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

This is how Horseshoe Falls looked just before construction began on Alberta's first central station hydro plant 50 miles west of Calgary. The dam was begun by

Calgary Power and Transmission Company in 1909. Calgary Power Company Limited, organized the same year, took over the former company and completed the project in 1911. It was the first in a chain of 11 hydro plants operated by Calgary Power Ltd., on the Bow River.

Buy "Alberta Made" Products

Alberta is one of the most richly-endowed places on earth. Its resources are vast and diversified. With very few exceptions, all the necessities of life are to be found within our borders.

It is strange, that, under these circumstances, we should be worried about a recession, or, more drastically, a depression. In the beginning the pioneers found everything to meet their requirements within the province itself. These, of course, were the basic requirements of food, shelter and clothing. From the early days, agriculture was the basic industry, and our prosperity depended directly on it. If the farmer was prosperous, all our people shared that prosperity. If the farmer was not prosperous, that condition reflected on all the residents, suburban and urban. One year's crop failure could plunge the province, and in fact, the whole country, into gloom. Where the success of a region depends on one industry, this is to be expected, and it is an unhappy situation. This is not peculiar to Alberta, alone.

The answer to this problem of economic stability lies in diversified industries. This includes all branches of manufacturing in all industries. With the trend to urbanization, with more and more people moving to the cities and larger towns, it becomes necessary to provide a means of livelihood for them. We must make them taxpayers instead of tax benefit recipients. They must be, and want to be, independent and useful citizens.

The way to accomplish this objective is to provide jobs for them; the way to provide jobs is to establish and support local manufacturing industries and services.

Approximately one dollar out of four spent on manufactured goods goes into salaries or wages for the worker. This means that every four families will support the family of one worker by their purchases. The crucial point is this. Do you wish to support a family in Alberta, in Canada, or in Japan, China, West Germany or any other foreign country.

The money spent for foreign imports leaves the country to be of no immediate use to Canadian workers, Canadian economy and to you.

The support of families in Tokyo, Hong Kong or Dusseldorf, is not the concern of Albertans, but the support of Alberta families is definitely our concern. It determines the future conditions under which we shall live and the provision of gainful occupation for future generations of Canadians, our own children included.

Alberta manufactures a tremendous variety of the products we use from "day-to-day" and from "year-to-year". Right at home we have such products available as salt, sugar, cereals, flour, vegetable oils, canned vegetables, dairy products, canned and fresh meat, fish, margarine, condensed milk, potato chips, produce, plywood, plastic pipe, cement, iron pipe, insulation, fibreglass, oil and gasoline, sulphuric acid, asphalt, building supplies, nails, explosives, fertilizers, paper products, pulp, shoes, boots, lighting fixtures, tires, furniture, clothing and many others.

By spending our money on these "home made" goods we put our money directly back into circulation, giving buying power and living power to ourselves and our neighbors. This money is re-invested in Alberta; its resources, industries, and, above all, in its people. The need for seeking "outside" capital for business would be greatly reduced if we kept the billions we spend on foreign imports home to work for us.

It is to our perpetual advantage and benefit to consider carefully even the smallest purchase. Do not be misled by the "false economy" of a cheap price tag. The article you buy under such circumstances may be a very costly investment. It is your choice when buying to ensure the prosperity of a resident of Japan, China, Germany, Italy, or any other foreign country, or to place that prosperous future in the hands of your own children, their friends and neighbors.

The vote is yours to cast. Do it carefully. Think it over and "Buy Alberta".

OF MANY THINGS (by Ambrose Hills)

Bad News

The only persons pleased to hear that profits in manufacturing in 1960 dropped to the lowest point in 13 years will be those who make political capital by talking about the huge profits of industry.

1960 saw Canada hit the depth of the recession. It appears that we are coming out of it now and that things are going to pick up. But it becomes more and more obvious that when business is good, times are good and everybody benefits. When business is bad, everybody suffers.

In 1960, the average profit on the sales dollars in the manufacturing industry amounted to 4.4 cents. Of this amount, 2.5 cents went to shareholders, and 1.9 cents was retained in the business.

In other words, governments took more in taxes from each dollar of sales than the shareholders did. To be precise, federal and provincial taxes on corporate income were 3.9 cents on each dollar of sales. This is one of the stiffest levies in the world, and it certainly doesn't encourage Canadians to invest in the manufacturing business — the main source of employment.

This is not the whole story, of course. If you contemplate going into the manufacturing business, you may hope for a profit of 4.4 cents on the dollar — but you are by no means sure of getting it. Out of 1006 companies surveyed, 201 or about one in every five, lost money in 1960. We operate in a profit-and-loss economy. If you profit, the government takes a large portion of it; if you lose, you lose, and there are no letters of sympathy from the revenue department. They are sorry to see you lose money of course, because that means you pay no taxes and you create no new jobs.

Those who are forever complaining about the fabulous profits of manufacturers are simply attempting to deceive the people, or they are themselves deceived.

Profits are low, far too low. They are not high enough to encourage the risk of capital... and those who will risk capital in the hope of profit are the ones who create the jobs we want and the goods we need.

Somehow, manufacturers must find a way to increase the incentive to invest. Costs must be cut, efficiency increased. Government must ease the tax rate, taking less of the sales dollar, so that volume can increase and profits become large enough to encourage investment capital. If this does not happen, who will create the jobs?

Governments can't do it. Farmers can't do it. Primary industry cannot absorb all of the growing labor force.

Isn't it time we stopped taxing the life out of corporations just because it sounds popular?

Maximum Loads On Highways

Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, has announced that effective June 1, a maximum load of 72,000 pounds would be permitted on the main north-south arterial highway through the province as follows:

- No. 4—Couits to Lethbridge.
- No. 3—Lethbridge to Alberta-B. C. border.
- No. 2—Fort Macleod to Edmonton.
- No. 16—Edmonton to Junction No. 43.
- No. 43—Junction No. 166 to Valleyview.
- No. 34—Valleyview to Junction No. 2 north of Grande Prairie.
- No. 2—Junction No. 34 north of Grande Prairie to Alberta-B. C. border.

"This provision," stated the minister, "will provide highway facilities to carry maximum loads, providing the vehicle has the necessary tires and axles to do so, in all direction throughout the province; there will be inlets and outlets at the Crosses Nest Pass, at Couits, on the Saskatchewan boundary via the Trans-Canada Highway, and west of Grande Prairie in the north."

"These maximum loads are being authorized on the understanding that there will be banned periods when the frost is coming out of the road-beds and also during excessively wet periods or whenever required in public interest."

Making sure no mistakes

The young reporter, who had just joined the staff of a newspaper, received an awful warning on the dangers and appalling consequences of making ill-founded statements in print.

With this fresh in mind, he set off on his first job, to report the sale of work that was being held in the nearby village.

Pale, but triumphant, he returned and handed his copy to the editor.

"The bazaar," it read, "was opened so it said by Mrs. Brown, alleged to be the wife of Councillor Brown, commonly supposed to be a more or less highly esteemed tradesman of this town. She was dressed in what some would describe as fashionable attire, and was supported on the platform by the so-called vicar other reputed ladies and gentlemen."

The Coleman Journal came into possession of a copy of a Coleman Bulletin dated August 18th, 1916, through the courtesy of Mrs. Elizabeth Lonsbury, who recently sold her home and moved to Edmonton to reside with her son William.

A few items of interest in The Bulletin are a picture of Pte. John Gregory, who was killed in action in World War I, a well-known local boy at that time.

A social tea was held at the home of Mrs. James Scott on Wednesday afternoon, proceeds for the Institutional Church, which was a successful event.

Jehovah's Witnesses Receive Invitation

Mr. W. L. Krish, presiding minister of the Coleman congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the Coleman congregation has received an invitation from the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society to be present at the "United Worshipers District Assembly" to be held in Vancouver, B. C., July 4 to 9, at the Empire Stadium. The local delegates will join an estimated 25,000 others from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, Alaska, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Mr. Krish noted that the local Witnesses have always enthusiastically supported such annual Watch Tower Society conventions and that many of the congregation are making plans to attend.

"This District Convention," Mr. Krish stated, "will provide a wholesome Christian atmosphere where people can unitedly gather together for scriptural instruction in spite of the unsettled conditions in the world today. It will also demonstrate the unifying power of God's Word, the Bible."

"The Coleman delegates will be attending," Mr. Krish added, "not as interested observers, but as participants. Besides receiving advanced instruction in the art of Christian Bible Teaching, they will have an opportunity to apply the instructions by calling personally on the homes of the people in Vancouver. The instruction and practice received will benefit the Christian educational program carried on by the congregation here."

1961 Census To Begin in June

No matter where you are during June, census takers will make every effort to reach you.

Chances are that you, or some member of your household, will be home when the census taker knocks. But if you're not, for any one of a score of reasons, you will be reached during June—or later, if need be—by the Canadian census.

If you're a trapper in the North, the census questions likely were put to you weeks ago by RCMP officials doubling as census takers. If you're planning a vacation abroad during June, you will be contacted upon your return so that the national portrait of Canada may be complete.

But suppose you are travelling across Canada during June. Or that you are in hospital, or stationed at a military camp in Europe, or serving with the Canadian merchant marine on the high seas, or posted to a Canadian trade mission abroad.

Even so, you will be reached by the census. All these possibilities have been taken into account.

Census officials say there is "a good chance" most vacationers travelling across Canada will be reached at some point during their trip. Hotels, motels and tourist camps will be surveyed on the evening of May 31 - June 1.

For vacationers travelling abroad census takers will report their households closed for the entire period of enumeration. They will be contacted on return—and though that may be sometime during the summer—through either the regional or head office of the census.

Most hospital patients will be enumerated at their home addresses. Usually all that will be required at the hospital is their name and address, to check whether enumeration was actually completed at home. But some patients—especially those with lengthy illnesses—can be enumerated only in hospital. In such cases, a member of the hospital staff will generally act as a census taker.

Canadian servicemen in military camps in Canada and Europe will be enumerated by their fellows. Military census takers are being supplied by the Department of National Defence.

Merchant shipping companies will have the masters of vessels of Canadian registry distribute individual census forms to the crews. And forms will also be sent to embassies, trade commissioners, and other representatives of federal and provincial governments abroad.

The forms are distributed in advance, filled in, sealed and mailed back after June 1.

Indians on reservations will be enumerated in co-operation with the Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Citizenship and Immigration. The Department will nominate census takers, and the enumeration will follow a pattern similar to the rest of Canada.

How many people are involved in these special census procedures? Less than five per cent of the Canadian population.

The time and effort involved in reaching them is necessarily out of proportion to their numbers. But census officials say it is important that a national census reach everyone.

"We don't want the Canadian population to be reported lower than it actually is just because some people are hard to reach."

'Albertacraft' Show In Edmonton July 17 to 26

The annual "Albertacraft" show of workmanship of craftsmen from Alberta and from across Canada will be held in the Edmonton Jubilee Auditorium July 17 to 26, it was announced today by the Hon. A. R. Patrick, Provincial Secretary.

The show will emphasize this year the resources of Canadian craftsmen, and a critical jury will pass on all submissions before acceptance. Classes will be arranged for each type of entry, to ensure that entries of various levels of craftsmanship will be entered in their own class. Approval will be given the entries on the basis of originality, quality, design and craftsmanship.

This will be the ninth such Albertacraft show. Attendance and number and quality of entries has risen each year since its inception.

Application forms for entering an exhibit may be obtained by writing to the Arts and Crafts Division Recreation and Cultural Development branch Room 424, Legislative Building, Edmonton.

Tips for parents

(By Helen R. Hewson Parent Education Associates)

Many parents complain that the week-end meals of their teen folk are sketchy affairs.

"They dash in and out to the movies, a party, a game, and don't take time to eat a proper meal—just snatch a bite of this and that."

Why not make a special occasion of at least one of the week-end meals?

It may be Saturday night supper, or Sunday brunch or supper—but make it a gathering time for all the family and perhaps two or three young guests.

Recently young marrieds were discussing favorite dishes and they remarked on the number of happy family memories that were built around the dinner table.

Saturday Supper
"Saturday supper in the fall was so exciting in our family."

"My brothers rushing in from the rugby game and we had big bowls of chili con carne with hunks of tender beef and plenty of red kidney beans."

"It makes my mouth water even now."

"We had the scrummiest Sunday brunch. Usually waffles and mother always put in some whole wheat flour and chopped nuts."

"We loved them."

"They were perfect with bacon or little sausage cakes."

"It was always such a leisurely meal, too—about the only time in the week we really took time to talk."

After Skating

"I loved coming in from skating or the movies with my beau and having cocoa with a fast marshmallow on top and cinnamon toast. — Think of the calories! But you can take a lot when you are in your teens."

Steam irons need distilled water

Tap water is taboo in a steam iron. It will plug the passages. Use distilled water, advises Miss Hilda Frederick, home management specialist of the University of Idaho extension service.

An iron will work all right on tap water for a time, but eventually it will build deposits that prevent the steam from getting through. Minerals cause the trouble.

Rain water and water from refrigeration defrost are poor substitutes because they contain minerals, too. Drug stores and filling stations have distilled water. If you get your supply from a filling station, tell the attendant what you want it for. Battery water may contain chemicals that would damage an iron.

If your iron does get clogged, there are remedies.

They aren't simple.

Usually the iron has to be taken apart and cleaned. This is a job for a repair shop. There are steam-iron cleaners on the market that may save a repair job. "Use a reliable cleaner," Miss Frederick urged. Poor ones may produce surface film inside the iron, causing spots on garments when they are pressed. Inferior cleaners may also hinder the development, and circulation of steam.

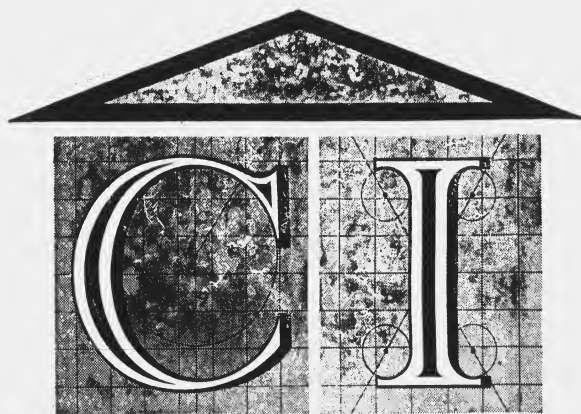

QUIT CLAIM

Sam was arrested for speeding. He paid the fine and demanded a receipt.

"What do you want a receipt for?" asked the judge.

"Well, when I get to Heaven and I'm asked if this judgment has been paid for, I don't intend to run all over hell—looking for you."

YOU CAN SAVE A LIFE!

WATER SAFETY DEPENDS ON YOU!

WHEN SWIMMING—

Wait two hours after eating before swimming.

Swim parallel to the shore.

Stay out of canoes and row boats if you cannot swim.

Learn to tread water, hands only and feet only.

Investigate conditions when entering strange water for the first time. Enter the water feet first.

Avoid swimming in the dark.

WHEN BOATING—

See that there are two people in a boat which is pulling a skier.

Avoid using small craft in rough weather, but if caught in a storm, lie down on the bottom of the boat and drift.

Remain seated in a canoe.

Remember if a canoe or row boat capsizes, remain with the upset craft. Hold onto the gunwales, but do not try to climb onto the bottom of an upset canoe as it will roll.

Insist that everyone in a boat wears a life jacket. Don't overload your boat.

Be ready — should tragedy strike! Learn these few essential facts about MOUTH TO MOUTH RESUSCITATION

1 If victim is not breathing begin artificial respiration at once. Wipe out quickly any foreign matter visible in the mouth, using your fingers or a cloth wrapped around your fingers.

Tilt victim's head back. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position.

3 If victim is a small child, place your mouth tightly over his mouth and nose and blow gently into his lungs about 20 times a minute. If victim is an adult, cover the mouth with your mouth, pinch his nostrils shut, and blow vigorously about 12 times a minute.

If you cannot get air into lungs of victim, and if head and jaw positions are correct, suspect foreign matter in throat. To remove it, suspend a small child momentarily by the ankles or place child in a jack-knife position with arm under his stomach. Slap him sharply between shoulder blades.

5 If victim is an adult lie him on the ground in this jack-knife position and slap him sharply between the shoulder blades.

CALGARY AQUARIUM

A recent expedition to the Pacific Coast by Elmer Taylor, curator of the Calgary Aquarium and Peter Buerchler, aquarist, has yielded nearly 250 new specimens for display at the Calgary Aquarium.

Mr. Taylor and his assistant, spent five days collecting specimens in the waters off Vancouver, and at Tacoma, Wash., to enlarge the aquarium's marine exhibit and replace the few earlier losses.

The exhibits they obtained included several large dog fish sharks, many small fish and snake-like creatures, invertebrates such as star fish, sea anemones, and many others. Packed with a minimum amount of highly oxygenated water in plastic containers inside waxed cartons, the specimens weighed a total of half a ton when they were flown back to Calgary by Trans-Canada Airlines DC 8 jet and Vanguard passenger planes.

Most of the specimens are now on display at the Aquarium, together with a 60-pound octopus, which was presented to Mr. Taylor as a gift from the Vancouver Aquarium.

The expedition had a supplementary dividend; while he was at the coast Mr. Taylor was able to prove that octopi can be transported long distances in a state of suspended animation.

This theory has been advanced by officials of the Tacoma, Wash., aquarium, and if practical, means that the Tacoma Aquarium, adjacent to Tacoma harbor, where octopi abound, could supply the creatures to many other aquaria throughout Canada and the U. S.

Mr. Taylor travelled from Vancouver to Tacoma while he was at the coast, to attend the world competition of skin diver teams diving for octopi. The teams captured 15 specimens, one of which Mr. Taylor volunteered to transport in a state of suspended animation to Vancouver.

The creature was packed in oxygenated salt water ice and placed in a plastic container for the six-hour motor trip back to Vancouver. There Mr. Taylor was able to revive it by applying artificial respiration. This involved working in ice cold water to pump the creature's gills for two hours before it returned to its normal state.

Although the octopus died the following day as a result of poisoning from the copper sulphate used in its capture, there was no doubt of the success of the suspended animation state for transporting it, Curator Taylor said.

"Though the Vancouver Aquarium generously gave us one of its own large octopi for display here, we intend to obtain another one from Tacoma if possible, shipping it by air in a state of suspended animation," he said.

Mr. Taylor spent one day at the coast aboard the Vancouver Aquarium's 30-foot boat, the Aquarius, setting herring-baited lines for dog fish, sharks and flounders. Of the four sharks taken, two were larger than any ever fished from aboard the Aquarius. For the time being both are being held in reserve tanks at the Calgary Aquarium. The other two are on display here.

Baited lines also captured specimens of large sculpins and skate, while a session of trawling with a large mesh net dragged across sand bars from behind a small boat, scooped up lemon smelt, ell pout, flounders and other small snake-like fish.

At low tide in the Vancouver harbor Mr. Taylor and his assistant were able to dig starfish and sea anemones from exposed rocks and tidal pools. They also used a seine net in shallow off-shore water to obtain pipefish, tubenose snappers, stickleback and small flat fish. The invertebrates — sea stars, anemones, hermit crabs, snails, and sea cucumbers were taken in Tacoma harbor.

FILM FANFARE...

The annual meeting of the Federation of Southern Alberta Film Councils and Libraries, May 29th, confirmed the present executive in office for another year:

Mr. R. H. Crabb, president, of Blairmore; Mr. Del Steed, vice-president, Cardston; Mrs. V. Mani-quet, secretary-treasurer, of Blairmore.

The organization is in sound financial position with a balance in hand of $10.39. The Film Use Report showed that films were shown during the fiscal year, April 1960 to March 1961, in 2062 showings to a total audience of 121,751. The trend of recent years has continued in a growing number of selective showings geared to the interests of the viewers.

Mr. Charles F. Ritchie, director, Division of Visual Instruction, the University of Alberta, Edmonton, addressed the meeting and made the following points of vital interest to those who wish to make good use of films.

He began by emphasizing that the Division of Visual Instruction is, and must be, more than a central film depot passively available to those who wish to use it. If it is to do its job it must provide not only a film program service but a film information service, a promotion and publicity service and, it must be a research centre for new departures in documentary film use.

It must provide courses of instruction in film use for the Faculty of Education as well as professional advancement of courses for University and other extension workers.

Its role must be active, seeking at all times to open and maintain channels of communication to Libraries, Film Councils and Federations on a reciprocal basis, so that through them community organizations will have the widest and most effective access to the services of the Division. It must maintain a policy of research and development in order to remain abreast of new advances in, for instance, the various Faculties of the University, whose professors can use it only if it keeps in step with their developing needs.

He mentioned that in the past year they have culled much old material from the Library and are adding much new material and, at the same time they are producing a new and simplified catalogue which will become available shortly for distribution throughout the province.

The Division will withdraw from the projection equipment field, which is now well served outside the University, and while they will for a time continue to service those individuals and organizations who have purchased equipment from them in the past, they will gradually close out this obsolete section of their service.

Increasingly, on the other hand, they will interest themselves in TV and in production for it, although this production, when this development comes, will be geared to serve not only the mass audience on TV, but the selective needs of special interest groups.

As this pattern of service unfolds, not only Libraries, Film Councils and their Federations will benefit from this central service, but through them and, directly, community organizations will gain a new respect for, and make more precise use of, films, film-strips, tapes and records in promoting the interests of their members.

As, more and more, this central agency of the University performs its true function, local services will be activated and the documentary film will wholly take its place as a respected instrument in community service.

— Clayton Bricker.

Catholic Youth Camp To Open July 2

The Columbus Catholic Youth Camp elected a new state of officers at the annual meeting held recently.

C. J. McAndrews of Lethbridge, was elected president; J. A. Simpson, vice-president, and S. W. Sawicki, secretary.

District representatives are as follows:

Taber, Mr. Dan Leahy. Milk River, Mr. Joe Hovan. Pincher Creek, Mr. Paul Kaupp. Fort Macleod, Dr. K. Adler. Picture Butte, Mrs. R. Chartier. Lethbridge, Mrs. J. Weiler.

The Registrar for the Camp is Mr. J. K. Thom, Lethbridge.

The camp will open July 2nd at Waterton Lakes with two one-week camps for the girls, followed by three one-week camps for boys.

Richard Bednar of St. Joseph's Seminary in Edmonton, will be Camp Director. The girls' camp will be supervised by a camp mother, assisted by nuns of the Order of St. Martha.

Organized activities are planned to provide a busy week for each group. A comfortable camp building with modern plumbing and electricity, kitchen, dining room, and dormitory has been developed at Waterton Lakes over the past four years to provide a safe and healthy outing.
